

Metropolitan Family Services

2011 ANNUAL REPORT

TO OUR DONORS & FRIENDS,

As I write this letter, the U.S. Census Bureau reports that the number of Americans living in poverty swelled to 46.2 million people in 2010. The overall poverty rate reached 15.1 percent, matching the rate reached in 1993 – a year after I started my professional career as a graduate policy intern with Metropolitan Family Services.

While much has changed throughout the past 20 years for me, the daily challenges and struggles for the 1 in 6 Americans living at or below the federal poverty line have not.

In returning to Metropolitan Family Services – now to lead the organization – I am eager to bring a new perspective and to leverage the success and experience of Metropolitan's past to create new opportunities and innovative solutions that will enable our organization to serve the growing number of families in need.

These are difficult times. Economic turmoil, the state budget crisis and funding cuts have forced other area agencies to close their doors. However, thanks to the commitment and focus of Metropolitan's past and present leaders, staff and volunteers, the dedication and generosity of our donors, and the fiscal responsibility of our Board, we are financially sound and poised for growth. This agency is highly respected in the Human Services sector and recognized for our quality of services and strong client outcomes. Because our community-tailored programs and research-based approaches effectively address the persistent and emerging challenges families face, we continue to receive funding from our individual, corporate and community supporters.

Delivering human services in today's environment demands an unprecedented need for innovation, human capital and collaboration. We must step outside our comfort zone into new areas and seek formative approaches not only in the services we deliver, but in areas of advocacy and fundraising, administration and governance.

One example is the rise of mental health issues (including suicide) among our region's veterans and soldiers. This results in an increased need for many of the core counseling and mental health services we provide through our social workers, counselors and psychiatrists. As of July 2010, we have been approved to accept Tricare military insurance and serve an increasing number of veterans through our Southeast Chicago, Palos Hills and Blue Island locations.

On the advocacy front, Metropolitan is leading the charge regarding the Illinois Predator Accountability Act of 2006 which allows survivors of sex trafficking to fight back against their abusers. Chicago has become a major hub for the lucrative sex trafficking trade yet in the five years since the act was passed not a single case has been brought to court. The Legal Aid Society of Metropolitan Family Services has established the Anti-Sex Trafficking Initiative which drives aggressive prosecution of sex traffickers. This initiative removes barriers enabling survivors to come forward and file civil suits for economic damages against their traffickers. It also provides access to the necessary social services such as counseling, housing and financial assistance and safety planning to support survivors throughout the litigation process. This Initiative is considered the missing ingredient needed to bring traffickers to justice.

In fundraising, we are aiming to build a larger, broader donor base to better support the vital services we provide. In the coming year, we will reduce the number of fundraising events we host and focus on cultivating relationships and building long-term individual, corporate and community partnerships.

As we look to the future we are again partnering with The Boston Consulting Group to develop a three-year strategic plan to position our organization for growth. This process will seek greater input and collaboration from our experienced staff – those involved with our clients and communities on a daily basis – allowing us to evaluate our infrastructure needs with new eyes. We are examining external factors including joblessness, decreases in family median income, causes of poverty and the increasing need in suburban areas.

Financial stability, effective programming and innovative thinking are all factors that drew me back to Metropolitan. They also have driven our sustainability for more than 154 years.

Last year we helped improve the lives of 43,000 families throughout the Chicago area and were again able to end the year with a balanced budget. All this is possible thanks to your generous support, our outstanding and caring staff and volunteers, along with the leadership of our Executive, Community and Young Professional boards. I ask that you continue to open your hearts to support those families and individuals striving for self-sufficiency and help strengthen the bonds of family. Together we can actualize positive outcomes for Metropolitan and more importantly for the communities and families we serve.

With sincere gratitude,

Ricardo Estrada, President and CEO

OUR MISSION

Metropolitan Family Services' mission is to provide and mobilize the services needed to strengthen families and communities. For more than 154 years, Metropolitan Family Services has responded to the evolving and critical needs of Chicago's families. Operating seven centers in communities with underserved populations, Metropolitan provides the help and hope needed to encourage and empower families.

80% More than eighty percent of our clients live below the poverty level.

PROGRAMS & SERVICES

Metropolitan Family Services provides a wide variety of programs and services designed to strengthen families and help them realize their potential.

CHILD & YOUTH DEVELOPMENT

Promotes academic achievement and social and emotional development among children, youth and families to foster their success in life.

Jessica is making friends.

"I am so happy to be there, I never get bored. Tonight we made a folder for my homework so it doesn't get lost," says Jessica, age 10. She has been in the MetroMentors program for four years. Her mentor helps Jessica with homework. They play games together and go on summer outings. Regina, her single working mom, says the program helps her too, because it gives her a break to do things around the house and care for her younger son.

COUNSELING

Provides support to individuals and families challenged with personal, phase-of-life and transitional issues.

James is pursuing a dream.

"Following a diagnosis in his early teens of ADHD by a counselor at Metropolitan's Youth Intervention program, James grew from a distracted and argumentative teenager to a college freshman with interests in literature and philosophy. Metropolitan helped James and his mom navigate the challenging high school years and counseled him through the sudden death of his father."

ECONOMIC STABILITY

Provides support and education to economically challenged families so they may improve their quality of work, lifestyle and financial situation.

Tony gained valuable experience.

CHA Housing resident Tony mentioned his interest in working in security to his Housing Case Worker at the Calumet Center. Thanks to the 2010 "Put Illinois to Work" program, a transitional jobs program for qualified residents, Tony found temporary work at a local security company. The firm recently brought him on as a permanent employee. "They helped me go for interviewing and showed me how to do my resume. It made a real difference and gave me the work experience I needed."

LEGAL AID

Provides legal assistance in the areas of domestic violence, family and elder law, housing and consumer issues to low-income individuals.

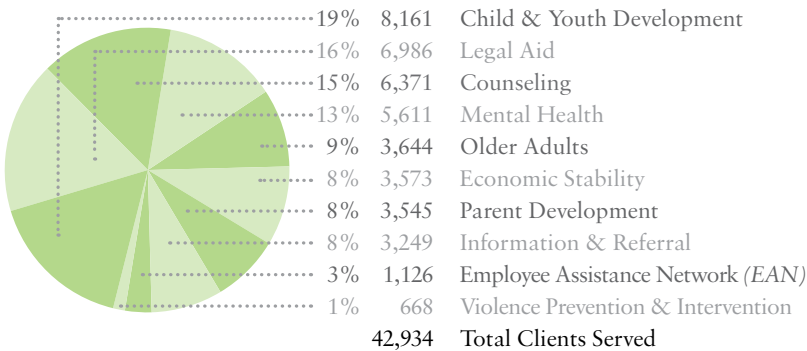

EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE NETWORK (EAN)

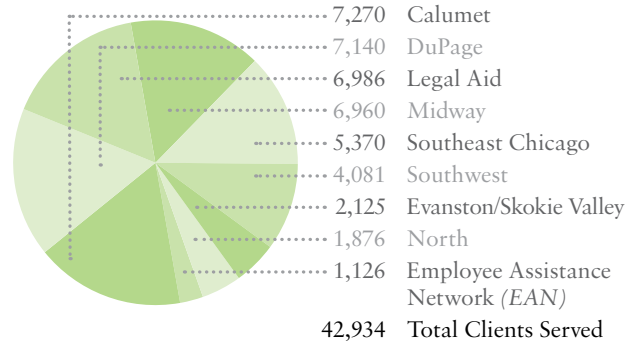

Provides counseling services that help workers achieve a better balance in their lives and be more productive on the job.

PROGRAM STATISTICS

CLIENTS SERVED BY PROGRAM

CLIENTS SERVED BY CENTER

43,000

Last year we helped 43,000 individuals and families in the Chicago area become more self-sufficient and strengthen family bonds.

MENTAL HEALTH

Provides psychiatric evaluation, case management and crisis intervention to help adults and children with chronic mental illness recover and be productive.

Jim is living independently.

Jim, 54, felt isolated and lacked the resources to cope with his schizoaffective disorder and other health issues. Metropolitan's case-management services enabled him to participate in group therapy and individual counseling. Jim recently moved into Metropolitan's Community Integrated Living Arrangement which he says is "The best thing that ever happened to me," as it provides him with an opportunity to be more independent and stay involved in family and community life.

OLDER ADULT SERVICES

Provides counseling and caregiver respite to assist older adults and their families in meeting the challenges and opportunities of later years.

Mrs. May is aging with dignity.

Homeless, anxious and depressed, 63 year-old Mrs. May was unable to work due to emotional and medical conditions. Through the North Center's Senior Homeowners program, she found subsidized housing through a home share program, obtained needed medical care and is now receiving Social Security disability benefits. Counseling is helping her deal with unresolved issues and has improved her self-esteem and outlook on life.

PARENT DEVELOPMENT

Supports parents in acquiring skills that promote the healthy growth and development of children.

Tonya is beating the odds.

By age 14, Tonya was the mother of two and was being raised by her grandmother in a crime-ridden community. Her anger management counselor at Metropolitan referred her to the Mentors of Moms program at the Calumet Center to learn parenting and other important skills. Overcoming many challenges, Tonya graduated 4th in her class and received more than $20,000 in scholarships to attend college. She is living in a family housing center with her children and receives on-site childcare.

VIOLENCE PREVENTION & INTERVENTION

Provides services to address violence in homes and schools to keep individuals and families safe.

Denise escaped violence.

Trapped in an abusive marriage, Denise sought counseling for herself and her children through Metropolitan's Family Violence Intervention Program. Through support and advocacy from the Legal Aid Society, the courts dissolved her marriage and granted orders of protection and temporary child support. They are living on their own and free from violence. Denise is employed and taking classes to improve her English. Her oldest daughter is enrolled in college and both girls are doing well in school.

HISTORY

Metropolitan Family Services has been a champion for families and communities since its founding in 1857 as the Chicago Relief and Aid Society. Here are some pivotal moments from Metropolitan's history.

1857

The Chicago Relief and Aid Society is founded and incorporated by the Illinois State legislature.

1871

Mayor Mason appoints the Chicago Relief and Aid Society to administer all relief, nearly $10 million in money and goods, to victims of the Great Chicago Fire.

1888

The Chicago Relief and Aid Society and Chicago Charity Organization merge, bringing a greater focus on poverty prevention to the organization.

1909

The Chicago Relief and Aid Society and the Chicago Bureau of Charities merge to form United Charities of Chicago.

1919

The Chicago Legal Aid Society becomes part of United Charities. The renamed Legal Aid Bureau begins providing free legal service for civil law cases.

1930

United Charities serves more than 20,000 people each month during the Great Depression.

1934

United Charities helps establish the Community Fund of Chicago, now the United Way.

1935

United Charities leader Joel D. Hunter serves on an official advisory council established by President Franklin D. Roosevelt to help shape what would become the Social Security Act.

1972

United Charities establishes its Social Policy department to advocate for families at all levels of government.

1995

United Charities changes its name to Metropolitan Family Services to better reflect the work and scope of the broad community it serves.

2006

Metropolitan moves to its current headquarters at One North Dearborn and continues to serve more than 50,000 individuals and families annually.

2007

Metropolitan celebrates its 150th anniversary and convenes the Inaugural Summit on the Metropolitan Family, bringing together 300 prominent leaders to inspire new solutions to challenges facing families.

REFERENCES

Last year refers to last fiscal year, which ran from July 1, 2010 to June 30, 2011. With regard to financial numbers, all outcomes and costs are approximate estimations based on available comparative data. In many cases the analysis should be considered conservative based on available comparative data and accounting for inflation.

1. Of the 971 adopted/State Guardian kids served in our Adoption Preservation (AP) program, only 11 children experienced a legal adoption disruption (child was returned to DCFS legal custody). Savings estimate based on daily and annual foster care cost estimates from DCFS, for every $1 spent on a child in AP services with Metro, the State saves from $7.92 to $47.49 annually. Serving 960 children, Metropolitan saves the State $15,222,888 to $108,366,120 annually depending on level of foster care needed. These figures are based on DCFS' assumption that the great majority would have higher levels of care.

2. Since the inception of the program, Upward Bound has helped a total of 60 college-bound graduates secure $1,616,373 in college scholarships. Last year 40 students graduated high school on time and 37 were enrolled into college and were awarded $1,107,640 in scholarships. Scholarships include all monies awarded but not necessarily used.

3. A child receiving full-day Head Start services saves taxpayers $10,100 per child annually or $83,000 over their lifetime. National Head Start Association, Public Witness Testimony (5/30/2011). Retrieved from http://www.nhsa.org/files/static_page_files/42F0D8D6-1D09-3519-ADA7C17BCE5F1D92/NHSA_Testimony_SAC_LHHS_FY2012.pdf

4. Of the 927 at-risk for hospitalization children and adolescents served in our Screening, Assessment and Support Services program (SASS) in FY11, 44% were successfully maintained in their homes (6% above the Cook County rate for all SASS providers). These figures are based on DHS' assumption that the great majority would have required hospitalization. The average inpatient psychiatric hospitalization cost $6,700 in 2008 - Healthcare Cost and Utilization Project (2008) - Hospital stays related to mental health, 2008 - Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality retrieved from http://www.hcup-us.ahrq.gov/reports/factsandfigures/2008/exhibit5_10.jsp. FY11 cost of our SASS program was $1,256,125.

5. Last year refers to clients served in FY11 which runs July 1, 2010 to June 30, 2011. Information gathered based on clients who were asked to complete a Client Satisfaction Questionnaire (CSQ-8). Information for CSQ-8 scales can be found here: http://web.mac.com/cliffatkinson/TamalpaisMatrix/CSQ_Scales.html.

6. Teen pregnancies cost Illinois at least $424 million in 2008, and the average annual cost related to a teen mom with a child is $4,368. Of these costs, 55% are absorbed at state and local levels - National Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy. (2008). By the numbers: In Illinois in 2008, taxpayer costs associated with children born to teen mothers included: $91 million for public health care (Medicaid and CHIP); $135 million for child welfare; and, for children who have reached adolescence or young adulthood, $67 million for increased rates of incarceration and $131 million in lost tax revenue due to decreased earnings and spending. Highlights retrieved at <http://www.thenationalcampaign.org/costs/pdf/counting-it-up/fact-sheet-illinois.pdf>

8. Jane Addams Hull House Association. <http://www.hullhouse.org/programsandcenters/program/jobtraining.html>

9. This is across programs of the organization. Health care includes services for both physical and behavioral issues.
